Sound Investment

UPGRADE YOUR AUDIO TO THE
MCINTOSH MXA60 NOW. APOLOGIZE
TO THE NEIGHBORS LATER.

■ For six decades, McIntosh Laboratory has created some of the greatest sound systems the world has ever heard. To celebrate their 60th anniversary, they decided to create something special even by their own elusively high standards.

The MXA60 Executive System is the first ever stand-alone integrated audio system the company has designed. Within its small sleek design lives a 75-watt-per-channel amplifier, a state-of-the-art CD/SACD/MP3 player, and AM/FM/RBDS Tuner, a vacuum tube preamplifier, and a two-way bass reflex loudspeakers system that will rattle your car windows from the living room.

Though they weigh less than eight pounds, the MXA60's dual low-distortion loudspeakers can fill any room with crisp, clean audio performance. To achieve that standard of quality, the geniuses at McIntosh custom designed mid-woofers with a four-inch diameter—providing a magnet structure that is proportionally far larger than most speakers of a similar size. If you want big sound from a small package, this is the perfect system for you.
